Captain Ed Nowland, of the Belle

Chief-of-Police Athy for violation of an ordinance recently passed by the city council prohibiting the bringing to this port of sick per-sons or dead bodies. We do not array ourself against any measure of the city council coking to a preservation of the health of the city, but we do think a little preliminary in vestigation in this matter would have re vealed the fact that this instance was not a casus belli. The remains of the late Captain Blasdel were shipped on board the Belle of l'exas for this port to be reshipped to Nev York for interment. A physician's certificate accompanied the remains, stating clearly and concisely that he did not die of contagious lisease, but of diabetis, with which deceased and been long afflicted. We learn also that he officers of the Belle of Texas had never been notified of the passage of this ordi-nance, and therefore should not be held amenable to laws or ordinances of the existence of which they were entirely ignorant. Since writing the above we learn that the ffense was tortured into a misdemeanor, and aptain Nowland was required to bail him self out of the stationhouse with a twenty-five-dollar forfeit. Perhaps Recorder Duff will take a more reasonable view of the case this morning and release Captain Nowland from the charge of an offense against the city laws we are satisfied he never intende
